Art Unit: 3723

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1, drawn to a tire valve puller, classified in class 29, subclass 267.
- II. Claims 2 and 3, drawn to a lever member, classified in class 254, subclass 120.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require a plastic covering support or a bent part. The subcombination has separate utility such as a lever device for pushing a vehicle alternator during belt installation.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
